THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 13.

GAMESTER OF THE OLDEN TIME. [From the Washington Star.] The "Life and Adventures of Robert Bailey" is a somewhat rare book, published at Richmond in 1823, and sold to subscribers from the hand of its author. Bailey was the greatest gambler of his period, and was in the height of his fame during the administrations of Washington, Jefferson and Madison. He was a son of an Irishman and his mother a Quaker. Born in Chester Valley, Pa., his father wasted a considerable at the battle of Cowpens. The impoverished widow loaded her goods upon a cart, and with her brood of children followed after on foot to Culpeper county. Va., where she kept a tavern and afterwards a school, and finally married again. The second husband undertook to chastise young Bailey, but received a dreadful flogging. This happened at the Seneca stone quarries, in Maryland. Afterwards young Bailey married a tavern-keeper's widow, and showed considerable genius for trading in horses, liquors, negroes, and merchandisc. Without education, he had still a powerful will and violent temper, and his prowess made him audacious and feared. In those days the Virginia Springs were full of faro dealers and Bailey was the principle gambler at the Sweet Springs, afterwards keeping the hotel there. In the heighth of his fame he had a large boarding house at Berkeley Springs, and a city hotel at Washington called the Beli Inn, kept in six of Daniel Carroll's houses. At this time, as for fourteen years, he was the dupe of a Winchester widow, named Ann Turnbull, and although his relations were notorious and open with this creature, the Chief Justice and the Supreme Bench boarded with him, and even advanced him hundreds of dollars at times, on account of board. Again he had a magnificent establishment at Georgetown, and rented the Union Hotel. He was twice put in prison as a debtor, and each time escaped, once advertising a reward for the marshal of the District. Ringgold, who had placarded him. On another LADIES' HANDSOME BUTTON BOOTS occasion he visited President Jefferson in the White House, at the request of Commodore Barney and Congressman Dawson, and when the secretary, Col. Cole, sent an usher to tell him that he must retire, he waylaid the marshal in the street and gave him a dreadful flogging, for which, after a tedious presecution, he was fined only $10 and costs. He kept some of the fastest horses in the country, and ran at At WADDEY'S, 74 King street. ging, for which, after a tedious prosecution, he of the fastest horses in the country, and ran at Annapolis, Richmond, Petersburg, Winchester, Lexington, Lyuchburg, Port Tobacco, and other places. He drove either four or six horses to a grand chaise, with out riders, and men in livery, and his own hair was superbly powdered, while he carried a gold-headed caue. On such tours he stopped at the prominent places and opened a game. He says that his earnings amounted to half a million dollars in gross. On one occasion, when the ladies at the Sweet Springs refused to dance with him, he bought the negro violinist and stoped the music in the height of the season. He went abroad to dispose of some mountain land, and becoming short of funds, rang in with some English noblemen, who diced freely, and he bet £50,-000. Losing, he threw himself on their generosity, and they raised him a purse. Again, in France magnificent luck followed him, and very he returned to the United States rich. He then loaded a ship with merchandise and went into business at New Orleans, where a dis-

ed and he lost his luck. In the latter part of Bailey's life, when he was struggling most earnes:ly to amend his evil courses and thrive by legitimate business, he fell into the hands of baliffs, and was hunted from jail to jail for trival bebts until he lost the use of his hubs by wearing manacles and by rheumatism. Then, wretched, pursued and despairing, he went into a meeting-honse at the town of Bath, where he had once been a great favorite, and endeavored to address his ignorant soul to the contemplation of heaven. The constables suddenly rushed in upon his meditations, and he was dragged again to jail. Finally, released from Hagerstown prison by the intercession of the celebrated Otho Williams he had no resort but to indite his memoirs and agreement with his doxy made him low spirit-

His book closes at this period, and although sometimes vulgar, it is so free and unreserved in its developments that we may doubt whether any gambler ever lived who described himself so fully. To the student of early social times this is an invaluable book, giving the depths and heights of a gamester's fate. On one occasion Bailey was convicted at Staunton for than cost keeping a faro table, and under the laws, as then enacted, was adjudged to be sold as a slave. He libeled the judge, St. George Tucker, and was cited before a committee of the Virginia Legislature.

FOR SALE.

REAL ESTATE IN ALEXANDRIA CITY AND COUNTY.

The undersigned, in accordance with the provisions of the will of Robert H. Miller, offer for sale the following pieces of property in the city and county of Alexandria, in the State of Virginia.
The terms of sale will be agreed upon at the time of the sale, and will be easy and liberal to

First: The large, well built and convenient three-story BRICK DWELLING, known as No. 77 Washington street, situate on the east side of said street, between Queen and Princess. This house is supplied with all the modern conveniences, including gas and water, a first rate kitchen range, a steam heating apparatus of Gould's patent. &c., &c. The lot on which it stands fronts 160 feet on Washington street, and runs through the square to St Asaph street, and contains about 38,000 square feet, or nearly one acre of land, and is in beautiful order. It contains a variety of choice fruit trees-pear, apple, quince and cherry, a fine English walnut tree in full bearing, a good collection of small fruits, strawberries, raspberries, currants and gooseberries, good asparagus beds, and a large number of fine rose bushes and other shrubs and plants. A more desirable residence than this is not to be found in the city.

Second: A two-story RESIDENCE, front building frame and back building brick, on the east side of St. Asaph street, between King and Prince, with suitable out buildidgs, on lot fronting 40 feet on St. Asaph street and running back of the same width for a depth of 92 feet. Third: A LOT on the west side of Washington street, between Duke and Wolfe, fronting 78 feet 5 inches on Washington stre t and running back 113 feet to an alley 11 feet wide. There is a large FRAME TENEMENT on this lot.

Fourth: The property at the southwest corner of King and Pitt streets, fronting 61 feet 64 inches on King street and 111 feet 7 inches on Pitt, consisting of SEVERAL STORES, occupied at present by Thomas Hoy and others.

Fifth: A LOT OF LAND fronting 52 feet 33 inches on the cast side of Water street and runinches on the east side of Water street and running through the square to Union street, of uni-form width, and of a depth of 30) feet. Sixth: A WATER LOT at the northeast corner o: Union and Queen streets, fronting 67 feet 7 inches on Union street and running into the Potomac river of the same width to the Port Warden's line, having the advantage of dock room of 33 feet, being the north hall of Queen street. Sold subject to an improvement lease to

T. J. Mchaffey. Seventh: A LOT situate on the east side of Union street, between Prince and Duke, fronting 30 feet on Union street and running of that width into the Potomac. Eighth: A LOT OF GROUND near the Stone Bridge, on the south side of Duke street, having a front on said street of 476 feet, and running back to the Alexandria and Fredericksburg Railroad, containing about 3½ acres. This lot contains a never fulling spring of good water, and is bounded by the west bank of Hoff's run, with the privilege of wing its water. The terwith the privilege of using its water. The terminus of the Street Ruilway is on to is property, and it is susceptible of division into building lots, which would be very desirable for mechancs and others wishing to make homes for them-

Ninth: A TRACT OF LAND in Alexandria county, near to but outside of the city limits. containing 13 or 14 acres. The east line of this lot, 1000 feet long, binds on the Alexandria Ca-nal, and the Alexandria and Washington Rail-road and turnpike bind it on the west. This tract being in one compact body, offers singular advantages for a large manufacturing establishment, and being beyond the city limits it is ex-empt from city taxation. It is believed that there is a very large quantity of excellent clay for making bricks in this land, and the railroad and canal on either side of it would offer a cheap and easy means of conveying them to a market.
Tenth: A TRACT OF LAND in Atchison county, Missouri, lying near Rockport, the county seat, containing 316 acres, more or less

Eleventh: A TRACT OF LAND, lying in Clark county, Missouri, containing 760 acres Any of these pieces of property will be divided in such manner as the purchaser may desire unless the value of the same be impaired by such division. As there is now hourly communica-tion between Alexandria and Washington, both by railroad and steamboat, every facility is of-fered to persons doing business in Washington who may desire to avail themselves of the much greater economy of living in Alexandria.
